

Black Doll Affair Full Circle Programs:

Black Doll Deliveries: Target age 3-11 years. The very foundation of The Black Doll's "Affairs", this program reaches children in a way they can relate, visually. During Christmas, on a mission to remind black girls that "Black is Beautiful", Black Dolls get dolled up and come to life as living dolls. As mirror reflections of who and hue they are, the Black dolls deliver beautiful toy black dolls to beautiful little black girls. "Be a Doll, give a doll!"

Black Doll Self-Esteem Tween Summit: Target age 12-18 years. So, you were born a black girl? Cool! In this program, The Black Dolls gather with "tweens" to girl-talk about loving the skin you're in, peer pressure, idolizing celebrity, etiquette, hair and make-up, things-that-bling and volunteering. "We're pretty...philanthropic!"

Black Dolls Pretty...Philanthropic Program ... We'll Work For Free! Target age: 18+. On a mission to diversify the face of ad campaigns and show a variety of hues relatable to all black girls, this Black Doll Affair program is sure to turn heads! In 1990 during a Vogue interview, referring to how she and other super models were changing the monetary game in modeling, Linda Evangelista said, "We don't wake up for less than $10,000 a day." Well, the professional models of the Black Doll Affair are on the opposite side of that quote ... they work for FREE! No money, benjamins, scratch, dinheiro, mullah, loot, dead presidents, coins, buckaroos, dough or bread, allowed! Call on our beautiful Black Dolls when your campaign calls for a bit more beauty! Why do the Black Dolls work for Free? Because "We're pretty.....philanthropic!"

Black Doll Diaries – Life on Skit Road: Target age 19 - 39 years. This is a program for us by us Black Dolls. From being riddled with STDs or dying unmarried, the latest coming from the media's talking heads, is that a black woman's life is sad, bad and doomed to skid row. Really? Well, via this program, taking place on stages in their communities, from their own mouths, the Black Dolls tell their personal stories. From skid row, this is a Doll's life, as told from skit road.

Black Doll Conversations of Legacy: Target age 40+. This program is for Legacy Black Dolls with a bit more "life" under their belt. Having achieved personal success, these Dolls go into their communities as shining examples. In a 'been-there-done-that' attitude, Legacy Black Dolls speak to other women about overcoming the personal hurdles that are keeping them from the life of their childhood dreams. As community role models, Legacy Black Dolls seek to reach women stuck in self-defeating patterns, but ready to move on and forward. Legacy Black Dolls are there as inspirations to ask, "Are you ready to change your life and weave a wonderful legacy?"
